

PORT OF PORT HEDLAND

Port Hedland is a coastal town in the Pilbara region of Western Australia, situated 1,600 kilometres by road from Perth. Construction of the first Port Hedland jetty began in 1896 to service the needs of the pastoral industry.

The Port of Port Hedland is the world's largest bulk export port by tonnage, located on the traditional lands of the Kariyarra peoples. The port has a single entry channel which extends for approximately 40 kilometres and is impacted by a 7.4 metre tidal swing.

19 operational berths

3,363 safe vessel visits in 2024-25

577.7Mt total annual throughput worth an estimated $115.8 billion

2,079 twenty-foot equivalent units achieved in direct shipping to/from the Port of Port Hedland

Over 1,800 containers and retainers inspected

$356,620 to support 25 local community groups, sporting and not-for-profit organisations in the Port Hedland community

Throughput by commodity

Iron ore: 98.5%
Salt: 0.6%
Fuel: 0.3%
Other: 0.6%

Over 500 road trains visit Utah Point every 24 hours

6,940 vessel movements in 2024-25

Pilbara Ports is progressing on the development of

Lumsden Point

Map of the Port of Port Hedland

